About This Content

Feasting at Lanternegeist

A Feast of Horror!

A simple harvest festival in an unremarkable village turns horribly, terribly wrong, in a way things can only do when adventurers are involved. A simple disappearance threatens to become a massacre as a hidden menace long slumbering in the bogs prepares to burst forth in the midst of this rustic revel.

Will your heroes be able to thwart this menace, or will they too become a part of ravening doom that is the Feasting at Lanternegeist?

Feasting at Lanternegeist is a 5th Edition adventure for 9th to 10th-level characters, which can be easily inserted into any campaign with a hint of cosmic horror in the background, or to introduce a bit of horror when your heroes might have become a bit complacent. Grab this 5E adventure today and Make Your Game Legendary!

Location Details

Many businesses in the FACTORY district run seven days, day and night, with three 8-hour shifts of workers. Given the large size of factories, this location tends to be more isolated from other areas in the city. Traffic tends to be heavier Monday-Friday during the day shift, with smaller amounts of traffic throughout the night. Traffic demographics show mostly factory workers, vendors, and other business contacts. Workers are mostly from low and middle-income households.
